Janie Munro	As a local resident and long time recreational user of the cemetery I wholeheartedly support the proposed listing which will provide a level of protection and possible future maintenance of this rare example of Victorian planned garden cemetery.
Andrew Hill	I walk through the cemetery most days and I find it sad that it has been left to decay. The history in the cemetery is amazing with fallen 1st and 2nd war soldiers, silver screen icons mothers, footballers who started the game in its early years and prominent people of a bygone era. I find it sad that trees are growing in graves and headstones are fallen and knocked over. I would like to see the cemetery brought back to its former glory.
Anonymous	I believe a C listing should put some responsibility on the council to maintain the environment. It's become a community resource which is well used with no funding attached. I believe we should pursue some recommendations alongside the listing to ensure the

	environment is maintained appropriately befitting the vulnerable and respectful legacy it deserves.
Anonymous	Important historical cemetery which should be preserved for future generations.
Anonymous	It's a wonderful asset to our area and has real historical value.
Anonymous	Many headstones and monuments are in a state of disrepair, fallen from plinths or sculptural pieces broken. I'd hope that listing affords some greater care and maintenance out of respect for those buried there and the legacy of their memory. However, I also appreciate the wild beauty of nature reclaiming spaces such as this. I would not like to see the grounds become too manicured or landscaped. It is also a space for nature and must be respected as habitat for flora, fauna and fungi species which thrive there.
Anonymous	Hopefully it would be brought back to it's original glory and subsequently maintained thereafter. Once it's been 'tidied' up I would like to see dogs banned. It's disrespectful and dogs were banned in Linn cemetery.
Anonymous	Hopefully the outcome of the proposal will mean that the cemetery will be cared for instead of neglected
