Updated boundary map showing changes

The existing maps for the battlefield record for Pinkie are available at <http://portal.historicenvironment.scot/document/600016661>

We are proposing a change to the boundary map for Pinkie.

We would welcome any comments on the proposed revisions to the boundary.

Map A: Proposed boundary map for Pinkie. The red insert rectangle shows where we are proposing a boundary change (see map b for further detail).

Map B: The section of the inventory boundary that we are proposing to change is below.

The proposed changes mean that the inventory boundary would enclose a designated area of around 18.15 square kilometres. This is a net increase of around 0.4 square kilometres in comparison with the current inventory area (c.17.75 square kilometres).
